

Duo Vivo

Roxanne Sicard, violin
Richard Zheng, violin

Duo Vivo was established in 2020 as a result of Roxanne Sicard and Richard Zheng's desire to explore new artistic ideas. Their goal? To share their love of music by creating unique experiences. Both graduates of the Conservatoire de Musique de Montréal, where they first met, the two violinists share a great connection on stage as well as in their daily lives.

They have given performances for Orford Musique, La Scena Musicale, Opus 130 and Ensemble Vox Luminosa. As part of their commitment to supporting young musicians, Duo Vivo organized the first edition of Camp de violon à la maison, a week of online courses and workshops. The following summer, they were invited as artists-in-residence at the Olympic Strings Workshops in Port Angeles. In the fall of 2021, they held their first ensemble music workshop at the Musée d'art de Joliette.

Roxanne and Richard play beautiful 18th century Italian violins, a Carlo Antonio Testore 1741 and a Lorenzo Storioni 1780, both courtesy of Canimex Inc. in Drummondville, Quebec, Canada.