

Robert Margaryan-violin

At the age of 6, Robert was admitted as a violinist at the Tchaikovsky Special Music School in Yerevan, Armenia. In 2002 Robert Margaryan moved to Montreal, Canada, the same year he was admitted at the Université de Montréal to study with Eleonora Turovsky.

Two years later Robert was one of the top prize winners at the Canadian Music Competition. The following year he was awarded the 1st prize at the Sorel-Tracy Music Festival. Robert was a holder of a Scholarship from Armenian-Canadian Association in Toronto, and was invited as a soloist to give a number of recitals. Since 2005 Robert was regularly invited as a soloist to give recitals at the prestigious “Chapelle historique du Bon-Pasteur” and Aram Khachaturian concert hall in Montreal.

Robert Margaryan has toured with I MUSICI DE MONTREAL chamber orchestra in Canada, USA, Brazil, Colombia and Argentina.

In 2007 Robert was invited to play with St-Lawrence string quartet at the first international music festival in Cartagena, Colombia.

Robert is a member of “do-mi-nante” Piano quintet and piano trio. The groups were invited several times to give a full concert at Place des Arts in Montreal, Chapelle historique du Bon-Pasteur.

Robert has taken part in masterclasses given by Alexander Trostyanksy, Ilya Gringolts, Alexander Markov, Alexander Brusilovsky, Maxim Vengerov, Zakhar Bron.

Robert is a member of the “New Generation Chamber Orchestra” founded by Yuli Turovsky in 2010.
